Authenticity and style:

This elegant home is ideal for couples looking to find a home out of season to escape the cold of the north or to come search for a home to buy. It gives travelers a glimpse into the small town life on the Costa Brava, while being close enough to beautiful beaches and other medieval towns.

Exposed stone walls, original wooden beams, and modern details highlight the home's historic character while offering modern comfort.

Open and inviting living space: Open-concept living-dining area with a cozy lounge, flat-screen TV, and wooden doors leading to the terrace. A striking stone accent wall frames the dining space with a wooden table for six.

Well-equipped kitchen: The perfect balance of tradition and modern convenience: white cabinetry, stainless steel appliances, and warm terracotta flooring.

Comfortable bedrooms: Three stylish bedrooms, including one with exposed beams and a stone-framed window, creating a cozy and elegant retreat.

Bathrooms with character: Two bathrooms featuring natural stone walls, glass walk-in showers, and premium fixtures, combining rustic charm with a sophisticated touch.

Private terrace with panoramic views: A spacious outdoor area with open views, dining set, sun loungers, and a barbecue—ideal for enjoying sunsets and the Mediterranean climate.
